WAR VESSEL LOST.

The Kearsarge Wrecked Off the Central American Coast.

OFFICERS AND CREW SAVED.

The Disaster Occurred February 2, But The News Has Just Reached the Navy Department—A Relief Boat Credited to the Rescue—Another Misfortune Befalls Rear Admiral Stanton.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The most famous ship of the naval service—the old corvette Kearsarge—has been wrecked. The story of the disaster was told to Secretary Herbert in a brief cable message which he received yesterday from Lieutenant Frederick Brainard, an officer of the vessel, dated Colon.

Lieutenant Brainard reached Colon yesterday morning and immediately sent the message to the secretary in substance as follows:

"Kearsarge sailed from Port au Prince, Jan. 30, for Bluefields, Nicaragua. Was wrecked on Roncador reef Feb. 2. Officers and crew safe."

Immediately upon receiving the news of the wreck the navy department sent a cable dispatch to Lieutenant Brainard at Colon ordering him to charter a steamer and proceed at once to the relief of the shipwrecked crew.

The chief of the bureau of navigation had a later reply from Lieutenant Brainard at Colon about noon saying that the City of Para was available to go after the crew. He was instructed to either charter a steamer or secure one of the regular mail steamers to New York, or, if one of the latter was to start immediately on her regular trip, to secure her to touch at Roncador and take up the crew. He was, in fact, given discretion to do what is necessary to insure greatest speed in getting relief to the men of the Kearsarge.

The Kearsarge sailed from Port au Prince, Hayti, Jan. 30, for Bluefields, Nicaragua, to protect American interests there in view of the invasion of the military forces of Honduras. She was wrecked three days out.

Roncador reef is a little over 200 miles from the Mosquito coast of Central America. Between the coast and the reef lies Old Providence island, only 75 or 80 miles to leeward of the reef.

It is believed at the navy department that the officers and crew would be able to reach Old Providence without difficulty in case they were in danger of their lives on the reef, and it is believed that they would be safe on the reef, except in event of rough weather.

It is the impression also at the department that the Kearsarge has not gone to pieces and may not do so for some time, unless rough weather comes up, although the tides and currents about the reef are, however, swift and dangerous.

The Roncador reef is well known to marines in those waters as a dangerous impediment to navigation. Efforts have been recently made to secure the erection of a lighthouse on this point.

Some time ago, when Warner Miller and officers of the Nicaragua Canal company were on their way to Nicaragua, they were wrecked on this same point.

Admiral Stanton was on the Kearsarge. When the New York and Detroit were dispatched to Rio it was made the flagship of the North Atlantic squadron, and Admiral Stanton, after the secretary of the navy had acted on his report of the salute of Mello in Rio bay, was ordered to proceed to Port au Prince and transfer his flag to the Kearsarge and assume command of the station.

The vessel was one of the oldest in the navy and had a splendid history.

It is conjectured that the Kearsarge went aground on the reef at night and founded. Lieutenant Brainard seems to have got aboard a small boat and succeeded in getting to Colon in six days. The relief can reach the shipwrecked men in less time than that.

The officers aboard the Kearsarge were: Admiral Oscar F. Stanton, Commanding Officer F. Heyerman, Lieutenants Charles A. Forse, Charles H. Lyman, Burles T. Walling, Lieutenants (junior grade) John Hood and Frederick R. Brainard, Ensigns Herbert G. Gates and Thomas P. Magruder, Naval Cadets (line division) Leon S. Thompson, Thomas L. Stitt, Thomas S. Bordel, Benjamin B. McCormick, Walter Ball and David A. Mallon, Past Assistant Surgeon George B. Lumsden, Assistant Surgeon Merritt W. Barnum, Paymaster, James A. King, Chief Engineer Burdette C. Gowling, First Lieutenant of Marines Clarence L. A. Ingate.

The crew was composed of 200 sailors and marines. She left the Brooklyn navy yard on Dec. 31.

The Kearsarge was one of the historical vessels of the American navy. She was which, on Sunday, June 19, 1864, fought and sank the rebel privateer Alabama off Cherbourg, France.

The Kearsarge was a third class cruiser of 1,550 tons displacement. Her engines were of 848 indicated horse power. She mounted seven guns in her main battery. She was attached to the North Atlantic squadron.

The wreck adds another to the misfortunes which have of late befallen Rear Admiral Stanton. He was summarily relieved from command of the South Atlantic station for saluting Mello, the insurgent admiral, and ordered to Washington. His explanation of his actions caused Secretary Herbert to detach him from command of the South Atlantic by placing him in command of the home station. He sailed from New York on Jan. 10 and joined the Kearsarge at Port au Prince the latter part of the month.

Commander Heyerman, who was in command of the Kearsarge, like Admiral Stanton, has been in the public lately. He was acting as inspector of lighthouses in the Detroit district. His plan of lighting the St. Mary's river differed from that of the lighthouse board and his correspondence with the lighthouse board was considered as approaching insubordination. He was suspended from duty and failed to secure a restoration.

Commander Heyerman was subsequently assigned to inspection duty at New York and served there until about three months ago, when he was placed in command of the Kearsarge. She made short cruises between home ports to blow up derelicts and assist at the trial of several new warships.

As soon as the ship's company has been transported to a place of safety and the fate of the Kearsarge is definitely known, a court of inquiry will be appointed to investigate the circumstances and fix the responsibility.

The navigation of a naval vessel rests entirely with her commander and his assistants and the admiral never interferes in the matter. He directs the general movements of the flagship from place to place, but leaves the details of routes and management of the ship entirely to the commanding officer.

Therefore, it would appear as though Commander Heyerman will be held responsible for the loss of the vessel, and on him will devolve the task of showing that the accident was unavoidable. He will look to the officers of the deck at the time of the wreck for a complete explanation of the circumstances. Exactly who was at fault will not be known here until fuller details have been received.

The City of Para, it is expected, will get away promptly to the relief of the Kearsarge's crew. It seems to be expected that after she takes them up she will proceed at once to New York and will not put into the nearest port and send word of the condition of the wrecked crew. This would defer the reception of any further news on the subject until the arrival of the City of Para at New York.

DETAILS OF THE DISASTER.

The New York Herald Receives an Account of the Wreck.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A Colon special to The Herald gives the following account of the wreck of the corvette Kearsarge on Roncador reef: The disaster occurred at 7 p. m., last Friday. The Kearsarge was under both sail and steam at the time, and was going about 10 knots when she struck.

A heavy sea was running, and as the character of the cays in these waters was well known to the Kearsarge's officers, it was evident that safety lay in forcing her as far up on the cay as possible before she began to break up.

Accordingly she was at once lightened up by heaving her guns overboard. One of the first to go was her splendid old 11-inch after pivot, the gun that did such terrible execution on the Alabama in their famous fight in 1864. Next the masts were cut away, not only to lighten her, but also to provide material for constructing rafts.

It would have been madness to attempt to make a landing in such a sea in the intense darkness of a tropical night and therefore there was nothing to be done but wait till morning. A terrible night was passed, the waves pounding heavily over the stern and weather side as she swung more and more broadside.

This is taken to mean that a compromise has been agreed upon and that certain concessions will be made, in line with the suggestions of Mr. Carlisle, who, while he is represented as not being against the coinage of the silver seigniorage in the treasury, yet insists that discretionary power ought to be lodged with the secretary of the treasury about issuing the seigniorage either in the form of certificates or of coin, so that it would not be injected in a lump into the circulating medium of the country. He maintains that it would be as injurious to put out $5,000,000 suddenly as it would be to withdraw that amount from the circulating medium.

He is also opposed, it is understood, to the second section of the bill, which makes mandatory the coinage of the rest of the bullion in the treasury and the redemption of outstanding treasury notes under the act of 1890 as fast as the coinage takes place.

DEADLOCK BROKEN.

A Quorum Secured After Four Hours Filibustering.

SILVER SEIGNIORAGE TAKEN UP.

Mr. Bland's Measure May Be Amended So As to Meet the Views of the Secretary of the Treasury—Proceedings of Both the House and Senate—The Senate Adjoins Until Monday.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The deadlock on Bland's silver seigniorage bill was broken after four hours of continuous filibustering yesterday, when, by a vote of 176 to 4, the house carried Mr. Bland's motion of going into the committee of the whole for consideration of his bill. The eastern Democrats and the great mass of the Republicans made a determined opposition, but Mr. Bland was at last victorious.

On the final vote 26 Republicans and all the Populists voted with him, while 22 Democrats who were present joined with the remainder of the Republicans in refusing to vote. It was thoroughly understood that quite a number of the Democrats who voted with Mr. Bland were in favor of certain modifications of the bill, although they could not carry their opposition to the extent of voting against its consideration. It is also well known that Secretary Carlisle and the administration generally is opposed to the bill in its present form.

After the consideration of the bill began Mr. Carlisle arrived at the Capitol and had a conference with several of the leading Democrats of the house, as well as those Democrats who were managing the filibuster, and just before the adjournment the announcement was officially made on the floor by Mr. Tracy that no further attempt to filibuster against the consideration of the bill would be made.

These cartridges are to be discharged under a plate, and the elasticity of the air will act in pushing forward the ship. The principle is the same as that of the explosion of dynamite on fixed bodies. The doctor asserted that it would cost $1.20 a mile to move his ship, and at the rate of 200 miles an hour it would make the expense of a passage over the ocean about $1,000, and the vessel would carry 25 passengers, thus providing cheaper transportation than the steamers.

Young Girl Crazed by the Grip.

FINDLAY, O., Feb. 9.—Temporarily crazed by the grip Miss Emma Moulton jumped out of a front window of her home yesterday, climbed a fence, ran three blocks and clambered into a cab of an Ohio Central yard engine, which was for the moment deserted by its crew. She pulled the lever and started out of the yards toward Toledo. She either lacked the courage or the knowledge to run at high speed, and was soon overtaken by another engine and brought home.

Drank Lye.

BUCYRUS, O., Feb. 9.—Orr Cochran, a brakeman on the Toledo and Ohio Central road, wanted a drink of water and stepped into a caboose on the sidetrack to get it. Seeing a jug where the water jug usually is kept, he picked it up and took down a large swallow before he discovered that it was lye. The young man suffered terribly and was horribly burned, but by the use of emollients the pain is subsiding.

Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The right of the secretary of the treasury to issue United States bonds at this time was again the subject of controversy in the senate yesterday. The resolution of Senator Stewart came up under the rules and a motion made by Senator Butler of South Carolina to refer it to the committee on judiciary proved the only opposition.

Senator Quay took a decided stand in favor of disposing of the matter in open session instead of giving it "decent burial" by referring it to a committee from which it would never emerge, and intimated that Senator Sherman gave to the country an apparent justification of Secretary Carlisle's action, when the Ohio senator clearly knew it to be illegal.

A strong speech was made by Senator Teller, in which he depicted the deplorable financial condition of the country and called upon his Republican colleagues to bear their fair share of the responsibilities of the cause and not attempt to throw upon the dominant party the entire burden of devising remedies for the impending panic.

The resolution finally went over, and Senator Berry called up house bill compelling the Rock Island railroad to stop at the Oklahoma town sites instead of seeking to build up rival towns on sites owned by the road for speculative purposes adjacent to the legal sites publicly established by the interior department. His denunciation of the methods of the Rock Island road in keeping representatives here to defeat this bill, he said, had a direct application to the attorneys of the company who, he charged, occupied the gallery while debate was in progress.

Pending the discussion of the bill and before a vote could be taken on its passage the hour of 3 o'clock arrived and the special order was the memorial resolution in memory of Representative Mutchler of Pennsylvania, who died at the beginning of the present congress.

Addresses were delivered by Senator Quay of Pennsylvania, Mitchell of Wisconsin and Hansbrough of North Dakota and several others and at 3:45 the senate adjourned until Monday next.

During the day Senators Gray and Daniel gave notice that they would on Monday address the senate on the Hawaian question.

AN OIL PUMPER KILLED.

FOSTORIA, O., Feb. 9.—J. W. Shanks, an oil well pumper, was killed while climbing a derrick. He fell a distance of 35 feet, his body striking on a log, resulting in the dislocation of his hip and the breaking of his spine. He died a few moments later.

ANOTHER FIGHT WITH THE BANDITS.

FRESNO, Cal., Feb. 9.—News has been received here of a fight between Sheriff Scott and posse, and Chris Evans and Morell, the escaped bandits. No particulars are obtainable up to a late hour

NO MORE FIGHTING AT ROBY
The Club Has Disbanded and It Will Not Be Reorganized.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Feb. 9.—Judge Crumpacker, attorney for the Roby Athletic club, returned from Chicago last night. He was there in consultation with the club in regard to an appeal of the case to the supreme court. He said that Costello was not in Chicago, neither was he liable to return and go to the penitentiary to save his bondsman or to lay in prison while his case went up to the supreme court as a test case. Costello can not be brought back as his case is not extraditable and he is billed for a fight in Canada next week.

Judge Gillett says that the Roby club is defunct, will give no more exhibition games, has been disbanded, and there will be no more fights. All this talk of the Corbett-Jackson fight coming off at Crown Point is done to effect the trials of the rest of the Roby crowd. Should Costello return, the judge said, an appeal will be taken for his liberty alone and to raise the question as to his liability under the White Cap law.

PROPELLED BY DYNAMITE.

DR. PYNCHON TALKS SERIOUSLY OF SUCH AERIAL TRAVELING.

CHICAGO, Feb. 9.—Dr. Edwin Pynchon told the Western Society of Engineers about the airship which he proposes to build, which will be propelled by the explosion of dynamite cartridges and upheld by the system of aerial planes. He said his vessel would be similar to that now being built by Maxini, with the exception of the method of propulsion. The doctor's principle is the discharge through tubes, extending to the rear of the airship, of dynamite cartridges.

These cartridges are to be discharged under a plate, and the elasticity of the air will act in pushing forward the ship. The principle is the same as that of the explosion of dynamite on fixed bodies. The doctor asserted that it would cost $1.20 a mile to move his ship, and at the rate of 200 miles an hour it would make the expense of a passage over the ocean about $1,000, and the vessel would carry 25 passengers, thus providing cheaper transportation than the steamers.

The young man suffered terribly and was horribly burned, but by the use of emollients the pain is subsiding.

Drank Lye.

BELLAIRE, O., Feb. 9.—Masked men took Robert Chapel, a married man, from the house of a disreputable woman, near Caldwell, horsewhipped him and then threw him into Duck creek, almost drowning him, afterward dragging him from the water and reviving him. He was thereupon given a few hours to leave the county, being threatened with lynching if he did not depart.

NOW LANGUISHES IN JAIL.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 9.—William Z. McDonald, late chief inspector of workshops and factories, is in jail. Yesterday his bondsman withdrew from his bond, and the man who once stood with the highest of ambitious and honored young men of the state was taken in charge by a deputy sheriff and locked up in a cell to await his trial.

MINERS RETURNING TO WORK.

SALEM, O., Feb. 9.—After five weeks' idleness the miners in the New Lisbon (O.) district have agreed to accept a reduction from 75 to 61 cents. The agreement, however, is made subject to the action of the miners' state convention to be held at Columbus. The men will resume work at once.

BOLD ROBBERY.

MINERVA, O., Feb. 9.—A bold robbery was committed here. The dry goods store of H. Weber & Sons and the hardware store of William Hughes were entered while the mill opposite was in full blast. A large amount of clothing, money and hardware were taken. There is no clew.

MURDER TRIAL SET.

BELLAIRE, O., Feb. 9.—The second trial of William L. Wilson, the alleged murderer of Officer George Murphy at Martin's Ferry last fall, has been set for Feb. 20. Judge Chambers will preside instead of Judge J. B. Driggs. It is expected that new testimony will be introduced.

SMALLPOX IN TOLEDO.

TOLEDO, Feb. 9.—A case of smallpox has been discovered in the suburbs. The patient, John Wintermantle, aged 17, has been ill for several days, but the disease was supposed to be chickenpox. Six people have all been quarantined, while the patient has been sent to the pesthouse.

EVERYTHING QUIET IN HONOLULU.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9.—Schooner Bangor arrived last night, 15 days from Honolulu. Her captain reports everything quiet at Honolulu and says that it is generally understood there that Minister Willis is awaiting further instructions from President Cleveland.

HOUSTON, Feb. 9.—Last night at the high bridge over White Oak bayou, train wreckers removed the rails and fish plates on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad.

When the passenger train came along the engine passed safely over but the baggage and mail coaches jumped the track and rolled down the bank, followed by the smoker, which landed on top of them. The wreck presented a frightful appearance.

Sheriff,

J. C. JEFFERSON.

Jailer,

R. C. KIRK.

A SPECIAL from Vanceburg says County Attorney W. C. Halbert has resigned as Chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, and has gone over to the G. O. P. The reason assigned is that he doesn't believe in tariff reform. If this is true, the G. O. P. is the place for him. It is more probable, however, that there is something else behind it.

WE desire to call special attention to the little item copied from the Portsmouth Tribune, in regard to one of the shoe factories at that place. The company's business last month was larger than the January business in 1893, and the factory is now giving steady employment to 650 hands. That's the kind of enterprises Maysville needs.

THE State of Illinois having "regulated" the practice of medicine is now proposing to regulate the practice of law. The Chicago Bar Association insists upon a higher standard of qualification for lawyers, and as Illinois is the chosen field of compulsory legislation, it is to be presumed that the movement will succeed. The Courier-Journal thinks that the Chicago Bar Association "puts the standard higher than public opinion demands," but suggests that in spite of this fact the movement will find advocates in other States, and in the State of Kentucky, we presume, it will be taken up by the "regulators" at once.

It is perfectly clear that, unless the State Legislature can do something to elevate the standard of the medical schools, all compulsory legislation for the regulation of medical practice is in vain. A committee of investigation appointed by the American Academy of Medicine has recently reported and published in the Bulletin of the academy, the startling conclusion that "only a minute minority of the medical schools of the United States demand of applicants for admission anything approaching a suitable preliminary training; a somewhat larger number require an amount of education which excludes the most grossly unqualified, and the vast majority welcome with open arms almost any man who will pay for his tickets." Under such conditions it is obvious that the only effect of compulsory legislation is to corral a great herd of ignoramus and quacks.

THE WAGES QUESTION.

The following extract from the Atlanta Journal brings forward the argument that rabid Protectionists can read with considerable benefit to themselves. It refutes a threadbare point that Protectionists everlastingly spring in all their arguments. The Journal says:

"One of the great contentions of Protectionists is that a high tariff makes high wages. They consider their case proved when they show that wages are higher in the United States than they are in free trade England. They ignore the fact that wages are lower in every country in Continental Europe than they are in England, and that they are lowest in those countries which have the highest tariffs. If the Protectionists' arguments were sound, wages would be higher in Spain than they are in the United States."

A CARD.

Editor Bulletin: In the society column of yesterday's Ledger I had the unlimited pleasure of observing my announcement as an "intellectual" star, against an aggregation of contemporaries. My superiority I had not conceived. The prolific satire of this phenomenal author, presumably a member of the male fraternity, would be better illustrated in the columns of some medieval newspaper rather than in the type of modern civilization. While the author has taken particular pains to drop me in at the last of his notice, more closely observed than my predecessors, as a brilliant star in a comedy of merriment and pleasure, he has ungracefully and unartistically and with assuming importance announced me to a community of refinement and intelligence. While it is my pleasure to mingle with an intelligent class of individuals, I don't like to shine above them so high that one moment of observation will reveal my ignorance against some "so called" shining intellectual stars. Respectfully,

CHARLES E. CAKE.

ELECTION IN BRAZIL.

It May Be the Means of Ending the Present Rebellion.

RIO JANEIRO, Feb. 9.—President Peixoto has issued a decree ordering a congressional and presidential election for March 1. The constitutional party will nominate Senhor Prudente Moraes for president of the republic and Senhor Pereira for the vice presidency.

President Peixoto gave a big reception to United States Minister Thompson and Rear Admiral Benham yesterday.

The general belief at Rio Janeiro is that the rebellion is practically at an end and that it is not likely that there will be any more fighting of importance, as the presidential election will now take up the attention of both parties.

The daily cannonading is still kept up, but with less vigor than formerly. The warship Aquidabon and another insurgent vessel have left the harbor. It is supposed they intend to intercept President Peixoto's squadron and challenge it to surrender on the outside where it could have no support from the government forts.

Insurgents Ask Italy For Recognition.

ROME, Feb. 9.—The government has been approached by agents of the Brazilian insurgents who have suggested that it was high time that Italy should recognize the insurgents as belligerents on the ground that they had established an independent government, that they controlled the greater portion of the southern part of Brazil and that they had been waging war against Peixoto, whom they classed a military dictator, since September last.

The reply of the Italian government was to the effect that Italy was not disposed to recognize the insurgents of Brazil as belligerents.

CRUEL TORTURE.

Three Robbers Resort to Fiendish Deeds to Secure Money.

BARBOURSVILLE, Ky., Feb. 9.—On Leatherwood creek, Cumberland county, last night, robbers were guilty of a most horrible brutality. Three men entered the home of James Clayton, who does not believe in banks, and, after gagging the family, proceeded to compel him to tell where his money was hidden.

They fired pistols close to his head, choked him, burned him with hot stones and finally stuck his feet in the fire, holding them there until they burned to a crisp. This finally conquered Clayton, who told where the money was. The robbers got $1,800, and then escaped on three of Clayton's horses. Clayton will probably die.

Fell From a Roof.

MUNCIE, Ind., Feb. 9.—Frank Rahebourne, a tinner, fell from the roof of a house to the ground, a distance of 20 feet. He is now suffering from a broken shoulder, a dislocated arm, three broken ribs and other injuries.

Tried the Three-Card Monte Racket.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Feb. 9.—An unsuccessful attempt was made here by two card sharks to victimize James Godfrey, a wealthy farmer, out of $5,000 by the old three-card monte racket.

The Old Friend

And the best friend that never fails you is Simmons Liver Regulator, (the Red Z)—that's what you hear at the mention of this excellent Liver medicine, and people should not be persuaded that anything else will do.

It is the King of Liver Medicines; is better than pills, and takes the place of Quinine and Calomel. It acts directly on the Liver, Kidney and Bowels and gives new life to the whole system. This is the medicine you want. Sold by all Druggists in Liquid, or in Powder to be taken dry or made into a tea.

SOME THINGS

That the Kentucky Legislature Refuses to Meddle With—Late News From Frankfort.

In the House Mr. Kirk's bill providing for compelling any person or corporation employing six or more laborers to pay them regularly, if demanded, upon Saturday afternoon of each second week was reported adversely by the Judiciary Committee and after a long discussion was defeated.

The House Committee on Municipalities has agreed to report adversely Mr. White's bill requiring electric wires to be put underground. A fight will be made to pass it over the committee's objection.

In the Senate Mr. Goebel called up the bill in regard to Circuit Courts in counties having a population under 150,000 when they are separate judicial districts. It provides for the summoning of juries for each district, and was agreed to by all parties.

Mr. Salyers offered a substitute for the bill relating to empiricism and it was adopted, after which the bill passed.

The Superintendent of Public Instruction sent in his response to the resolution calling for a report of his expenses. The report shows that his allowance for clerical force from September, 1891, to February, 1894, amounted to $8,040, of which $7,748.21 has been expended. The delay in his biennial report has been occasioned by the want of sufficient force to enable him to overcome the requirements of the new Constitution. He does not ask for any additional force.

The Senate discussed at great length Wednesday the bill to compel all physicians to stand an examination before entering practice. After slight amendment it was passed.

The record of that which has been accomplished during the thirty working days just ended, is only equalled by that which has been undertaken. With one-half of the session gone the following showing is made: One hundred and sixty bills introduced in the Senate, 277 introduced in the House; five Senate bills and six House bills passed through both houses, making a total of 437 bills introduced and the insignificant number of eleven disposed of.

The Supper a Success.

The supper given by the ladies of Lewisburg was a complete success. The proceeds amounted to $60.50, which will be used to aid in building a parsonage for the Baptist Church of that place. This church is one of the strongest in the circuit and doing a splendid work, but why should it not be so with such a corps of workers as is found among the members, with Rev. M. B. Adams as a leader?

This body of workers are not only busy on such occasions as this, the supper, but they are found daily in the vineyard, dropping a word of comfort here and doing an act of kindness there, sending food and clothing to orphans not only at home but abroad and to the asylums, and helping to send the Word into the interior of Africa and Asia and in every respect trying to complete their mission.

In the near future these ladies will make another attempt to lighten the burden. Their efforts should be appreciated and the supper well patronized.

River News.

The Enos Taylor, the new Augusta and Maysville packet, is about ready for her machinery. She was launched yesterday and will be taken to Portsmouth for completion.

Capt. A. J. McAllister, the veteran steamboat master, now has command of the Portsmouth ferry boat, Susie Brown, relieving Capt. Thos. McDowell. The latter will engage in business on shore.

Capt. French, the river showman, has purchased the new show boat Shakespeare at Louisville for $1,000. The boat will be overhauled, and put in the best of shape for the coming season.

The White Collar Line have discharged the third clerks on their steamers, to curtail expenses.

Just Read This, You Maysville Men.

Portsmouth Tribune: "Drew, Selby & Co. are running full time in their shoe factory, and have 650 employees on the payroll. The business of the firm for January of this year exceeded the same month last year by about $5,000. The sales of the company this January were a little over $100,000, and in a good year they rarely ever fall short of the $1,000,000 mark."

Important to Ladies.

The Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wayne Company announce that all ladies are entitled to complimentary on the opening night. By paying for one 30 cents seat, two can be secured. If you fail to receive a ticket from the agent, you can be supplied by calling at the reserved seat sale at Nelson's. The company opens next Monday night for a week's engagement.

LOVELY diamonds, fine watches, sterling silver, art pottery, onyx goods, cut glass, novelties in jewelry, in fact everything in the make-up of a first-class jewelry house can always be found at Ballenger's.

PARIS Kentuckian: "Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Chanslor, of Millersburg, entertained Friday evening in honor of their children, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Armstrong, of Maysville, and Mr. and Mrs. Berry Bedford, of Ruddell's Mills."

THE COURIER JOURNAL'S Frankfort correspondent is inclined to the opinion that the fight for the Democratic nomination for Appellate Judge in this district will narrow down to Hon. Leslie Applegate and Senator Goebel.

MR. SAM TRUE, of Dover, has accepted a position with the Fall's City Tobacco Warehouse at Louisville, at a handsome salary. He will have entire charge of the burley department, says the News, and has a pleasant and lucrative position. He entered upon his duties last Tuesday.

REPRESENTATIVE PAYNTER has introduced a bill to pay H. C. Herndon, of Cattlettsburg, $254 for the loss of a registered package which he mailed from the postoffice at Webbville on the 24th day of November, 1892, addressed to Thomas C. McDowell, Collector of Internal Revenue for the Lexington district.

A HOT SHOT.

It is Fired by Ex-Congressman Butterworth Into the Ranks of the Hightariffites.

Ex-Congressman Butterworth is one of the most prominent Republicans in Cincinnati. He has been honored by his party in Ohio in more ways than one.

The Chamber of Commerce of Rochester, N. Y., gave its annual dinner one day this week, and Mr. Butterworth was one of the honored guests. He responded to the toast "Our National Industries," and the Enquirer says his speech will attract no little attention. In the course of his address he said: "Industry and commerce are inseparably blended. If we dwarf our commerce we must in a greater or less degree contract the avenues through which the product of our industries is distributed.

"It is asserted constantly that the multiplication of our industries is due to the direct influence of a high protective tariff. I cannot conceive a greater error than is embodied in that statement. Orators on the stump exhibit a piece of common goods that fifty years ago cost 40 or 50 cents a yard and then take another piece that was manufactured recently at 5 cents a yard, and then thank the Lord for a high protective tariff. But the difference in cost has no more relation to a protective tariff than the transit of Venus. If you will visit Lowell and go through the mills you will find there that the cost of production of that second lot of calico has been reduced by the devices supplied by the inventive genius of men, which at the same time found a great number of new industries."

THE members of the Maysville Club were royally entertained last evening at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Sharp.

ANOTHER mass meeting will be held at the court house next Monday to take steps to enforce the new law in regard to turnpike tolls.

REV. T. F. GARRETT, pastor of the Sardis M. E. Church for several years, is engaged in a big revival at Newark, O. There had been ninety conversions at last accounts.

DOVER News: "Rev. E. B. Cake, the eloquent pastor of the Maysville Christian Church, will preach at the Dover Christian Church next Monday and Tuesday nights."

AUGUSTA Chronicle: "The item from Higginsport in last Sunday's Enquirer about James Ware, of this place, being kicked by a vicious horse and both arms broken, was a fake, pure and simple."

THE LOUISVILLE Post's Washington correspondent says Secretary Smith refused to indorse any one for Pension Agent for Kentucky, but sent the papers of Col. Northup and Major Adams to the President, who will decide the matter.

THE C. and O. people are making preparations to establish extensive terminals at Norfork, Va. The property purchased last April by the Chesapeake and Ohio Terminal Company at Norfork, for which $556,000 was paid, is to be used for terminal purposes.

R. Y. HARDIN, the well-known turf writer, got into a dispute at Lexington with A. W. Parrish, editor of the American Sportsman, of Cleveland. The lie was passed, and Hardin knocked Parrish out in one round. Hardin acted as starter at the Maysville races a year or two ago.

A "SPECIAL" from Mt. Carmel says: "The sports of this place held a very interesting mill here. The go was between 'Long Sam' Kelley and 'Squire Becket' for a small purse. In the sixth round Kelley delivered a heart blow, which sent Becket to the floor and ended the fight."

REV. W. T. ARNOLD, formerly pastor of the Dover Circuit M. E. Church, South, but now of Stanford, writes that, "Since conference we have had on the Stanford and McKendree charge about thirty sanctifications, one hundred conversions and seventy-eight additions to the church."

AT Ft. Wayne, Ind., Feb. 7th, judgment was entered against W. P. Bidwell for $500 for criminal libel. Bidwell is proprietor of the American Eagle, an A. P. A. paper, and the case had been brought for libelous words published in it concerning a Catholic Orphan Asylum. The defendant excepted to the ruling and will appeal to the Supreme Court.

THE bill amending the jury law has passed the Legislature. One section of it provides that if the regular panel of jurors is exhausted by reason of challenges or for other reasons, the Sheriff may proceed to summon jurors to supply the places of those on the regular panel of jurors in the manner required by law previous to the enactment of the law of May 22, 1893.

OBSTRUCTIONS ON THE TRACK.

Striking Miners Attempt to Wreck a Railroad Train—Trouble Feared.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Feb. 9.—A special to The Gazette from Powelton, W. Va., says: Three unsuccessful attempts were made by strikers to wreck the train on the Powelton and Pocahontas branch railway last night by placing obstructions on the track. Fortunately the trainmen discovered the obstacles in time to stop the train before they were reached.

There is no open threats made by the miners here, but they are still holding out against the reduction, and it is rumored that an outbreak is meditated. There are other reports to the effect that they will all go to work soon at the reduced price, and it is known that many of them favor such a course.

The miners at Wyandot, further up the Kanawha, in Fayette county, are out and the authorities have been asked by the operators to be ready to give protection to life and property, as trouble is feared.

The Strong Man Wants to Fight Corbett. DETROIT, Feb. 9.—Sampson, the strong man who is playing an engagement here, announced that he has decided to challenge Corbett for a fight. Sampson strikes a 3,000 pound blow. He says he is willing Corbett should strike him, but that he would surely break Corbett's arm or otherwise disable him at the time. He states that he will go into training to perfect himself, also in the science of sparing.

Rushing the Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—The subcommittee of the senate finance committee having in charge the tariff bill have decided to report the new bill to the full committee next week and push it through the committee so as to get it in the senate the following week—that is the last of February. Once in the senate the whip and gag will be applied and every effort used to rush it through.

Stole One Hundred Thousand Dollars. DETROIT, Feb. 9.—Deputy United States marshals have been as yet unable to locate Frederick Marvin, the ex-cashier of the Third National bank, who is wanted for embezzlement of various notes. Directors of the defunct bank say his defalcations added to the amounts obtained by various false representations aggregate $100,000.

Editors to Meet in July.

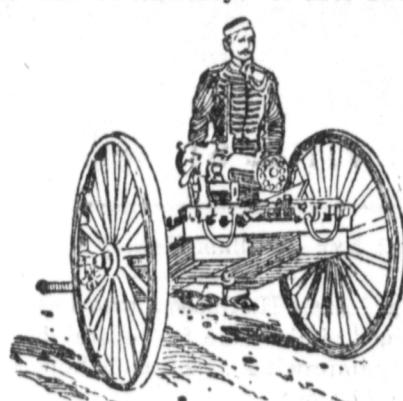

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 9.—The executive committee of the National Editorial association met here, and after a brief discussion decided to call the annual meeting of the association for Asbury Park, N. J. The first week in July was fixed as the time. A committee was appointed to arrange a program.

Publishers Assign.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The Godey Publishing company made an assignment yesterday without preferences to Benjamin S. Harrison. The company published the periodical known as Godey's Magazine, formerly called Godey's Ladies' Book. The assets are said to be considerably in excess of the liabilities.

The Deadly Accles Gun.

The Accles gun is the latest improved type of the machine gun. It is the invention of J. G. Accles, and in a general way it resembles the gatling, but has a number of distinct features that greatly increase its efficiency. It fires but one shot at a time, and a cartridge cannot be discharged without the trigger being pulled, but by a simple clutch at the side of the machine the firing mechanism may be thrown in or out of gear instantly, and the gunner can throw a continuous stream of bullets or fire shots singly at the rate of 400 a minute. It is possible to discharge all of the shots at each turn of the crank, or 30 shots a second, which is at the rate of 1,800 a minute. One man may aim and fire the gun.

Temporarily Embarrassed.

AKRON, O., Feb. 9.—On application of Frank A. Wilcox, president and a large creditor, a receiver, in the person of Mr. Wilcox, was yesterday afternoon appointed for the Akron Electrical Manufacturing company. The company is incorporated for $100,000, and employs 60 hands. It is expected that it will soon resume, the embarrassment being only temporary, the result of a crowding in of creditors.
